Profit by price point (per bottle)

LIST PRICE	REFERRAL	FBA	STOR/IN	COGS	PROFIT (NO LABOUR)	MARGIN	PROFIT (W/ LABOUR)	MARGIN

Break-even price ≈ $13.10 (no labour) / ≈ $14.90 (with labour). Below that you lose money — a premium glass syrup on FBA needs a premium price.

Pilot 2026 — two cases (48 bottles) @ $26.99

Revenue if all 48 sell (48 × $26.99)	$1,295.52
Gross profit, no labour (48 × $11.79)	~$566
Gross profit, with labour (48 × $10.29)	~$494
Less one-time costs (GS1 GTIN ~$40, label minimum, samples)	– ~$100–200

A validation run, not a profit centre. At 48 units the per-bottle allocations (freight, GS1 fee, label setup) are high and fall sharply with volume, so margins improve in year two. The pilot's job: prove the product, the listing and the first reviews.

Market & recommendation

Comparables: Okanagan Lavender & Herb Farm $20 / 250 mL · Sonoma Syrup ~$20–25 · premium Amazon cocktail syrups $18–26. Commodity (Monin/Torani 750 mL) $10–15 — not your tier.

$26.99 CAD — confirmed for the 2026 pilot. The premium story (estate-grown, the unique colour-change, the clean four-ingredient label, the branding) supports pricing at the top of the market rather than matching the $20 Kelowna farm. Nets ~$11.80/bottle (~44%) before labour. Floor: do not go below ~$22. Before locking: run Amazon's Revenue Calculator with the packed bottle, confirm the Grocery referral %, order the 28-400 caps, and re-plug your real label quote.
